Proposal for an increase in the baseline fee for MPhils etc in the School of the Humanities & Social Sciences

The Board considered a discussion paper received from the Chair of the School of Humanities & Social Sciences regarding the possibility of increasing the baseline Composition Fee for all MPhils and other courses within the School. The Board wished to raise a number of question and comments:

• The Board were sympathetic to the idea that the MPhils are underpriced and that the University should levy a realistic charge in order to ensure economic viability in the future. However, the Board were concerned that the increased revenue should be used exclusively for the MPhil degrees and should not be used to support financial shortfalls in other areas, nor should this be used as justification for increasing the fee.

• The Board were concerned that underpricing may be a common concern and that all Schools should now be given the opportunity to re-evaluate the cost of their MPhil courses.

• How would the proposed increase in fee level be reconciled with the decrease in the number of Home students who apply to Cambridge and how would the difference between the maximum Research Council fee and the proposed fee be achieved? The Board would expect that the University would commit to recycling increased fee income in the form of student bursaries, but matching funds would also be required. The Board require confirmation that Home students would not be disadvantaged should the scheme be approved.

• The cost of the College Fee to the student must also be considered as this will not be an issue at most other HEIs.

• The Board were opposed to gradual introduction of the increased fee.

• Sufficient resource would be required for the enhancements which it would be necessary to make to CamSIS.

• The Board requested input from the Planning and Resource Committee and the Education Committee.

QAA Institutional Audit: draft briefing document

Overall, the Board were content with the draft document, but felt that more emphasis could be placed on recent achievements in graduate education, such as the Code of Practice for Research Degrees.
1338 Proposals for the introduction of new or significantly amended courses and examinations for the MPhil Degree: revised application form

The Board approved the use of the revised form. The Board asked that the next version of the form should be revised to include an additional section to be used to opt-into the part-time MPhil pathway and to provide detail on part-time provision. It was also felt that further detail was required on how to request premium fees for taught MPhil courses.
